Oriental Rugs.

Everybody admires them-not one person in a thousand knows their real commercial value.

We've made a study of Oriental Rugs-so much so that we can say with confidence that every Rug in the house is only marked at a fair commercial profit because we bought them on the same basis.

There's a lot of "faking" in the prices of Oriental Rugs -witness this actual occurrence as an example:

Our buyer was asked by a New York importer what price he intended asking for a rug he had just bought. The price was stated, and the New York man opened his eyes in amazement. "Why," said he, "our New York retail stores would get double that price." You're sure of your Rugs and sure of your store when buying at Miller & Rhoads.
